A MATTER OF OPPORTUNITY
27 min.

"In this country today there is one black physician for every 3,745 black people and one white physician for 721 white people. This is an obvious discrepancy... and we want to break it down." Produced under the sponsorship of the American Medical Association, this film is intended to meet the challenges of providing interested black students with real, meaningful information about a career in medicine. It offers these students a clear, realistic picture of the opportunities that lie in store for the black man who wishes to make medicine his career and shows that the goals are unlimited and highly worthwhile.
